Newfoundland Rescue

How can a Newfoundland help from the water?

Did you know? During a water rescue test, a trained Newfoundland can carry a line out or tow something back toward shore. The dog follows a handler's cues. An orange floating line is easy to spot on the water in this drawing.