King Cobra

How does a king cobra spread its hood?

Did you know? The cobra spreads long ribs in its neck to stretch the skin into a hood. Raising its head and showing the hood can warn another animal to stay back.