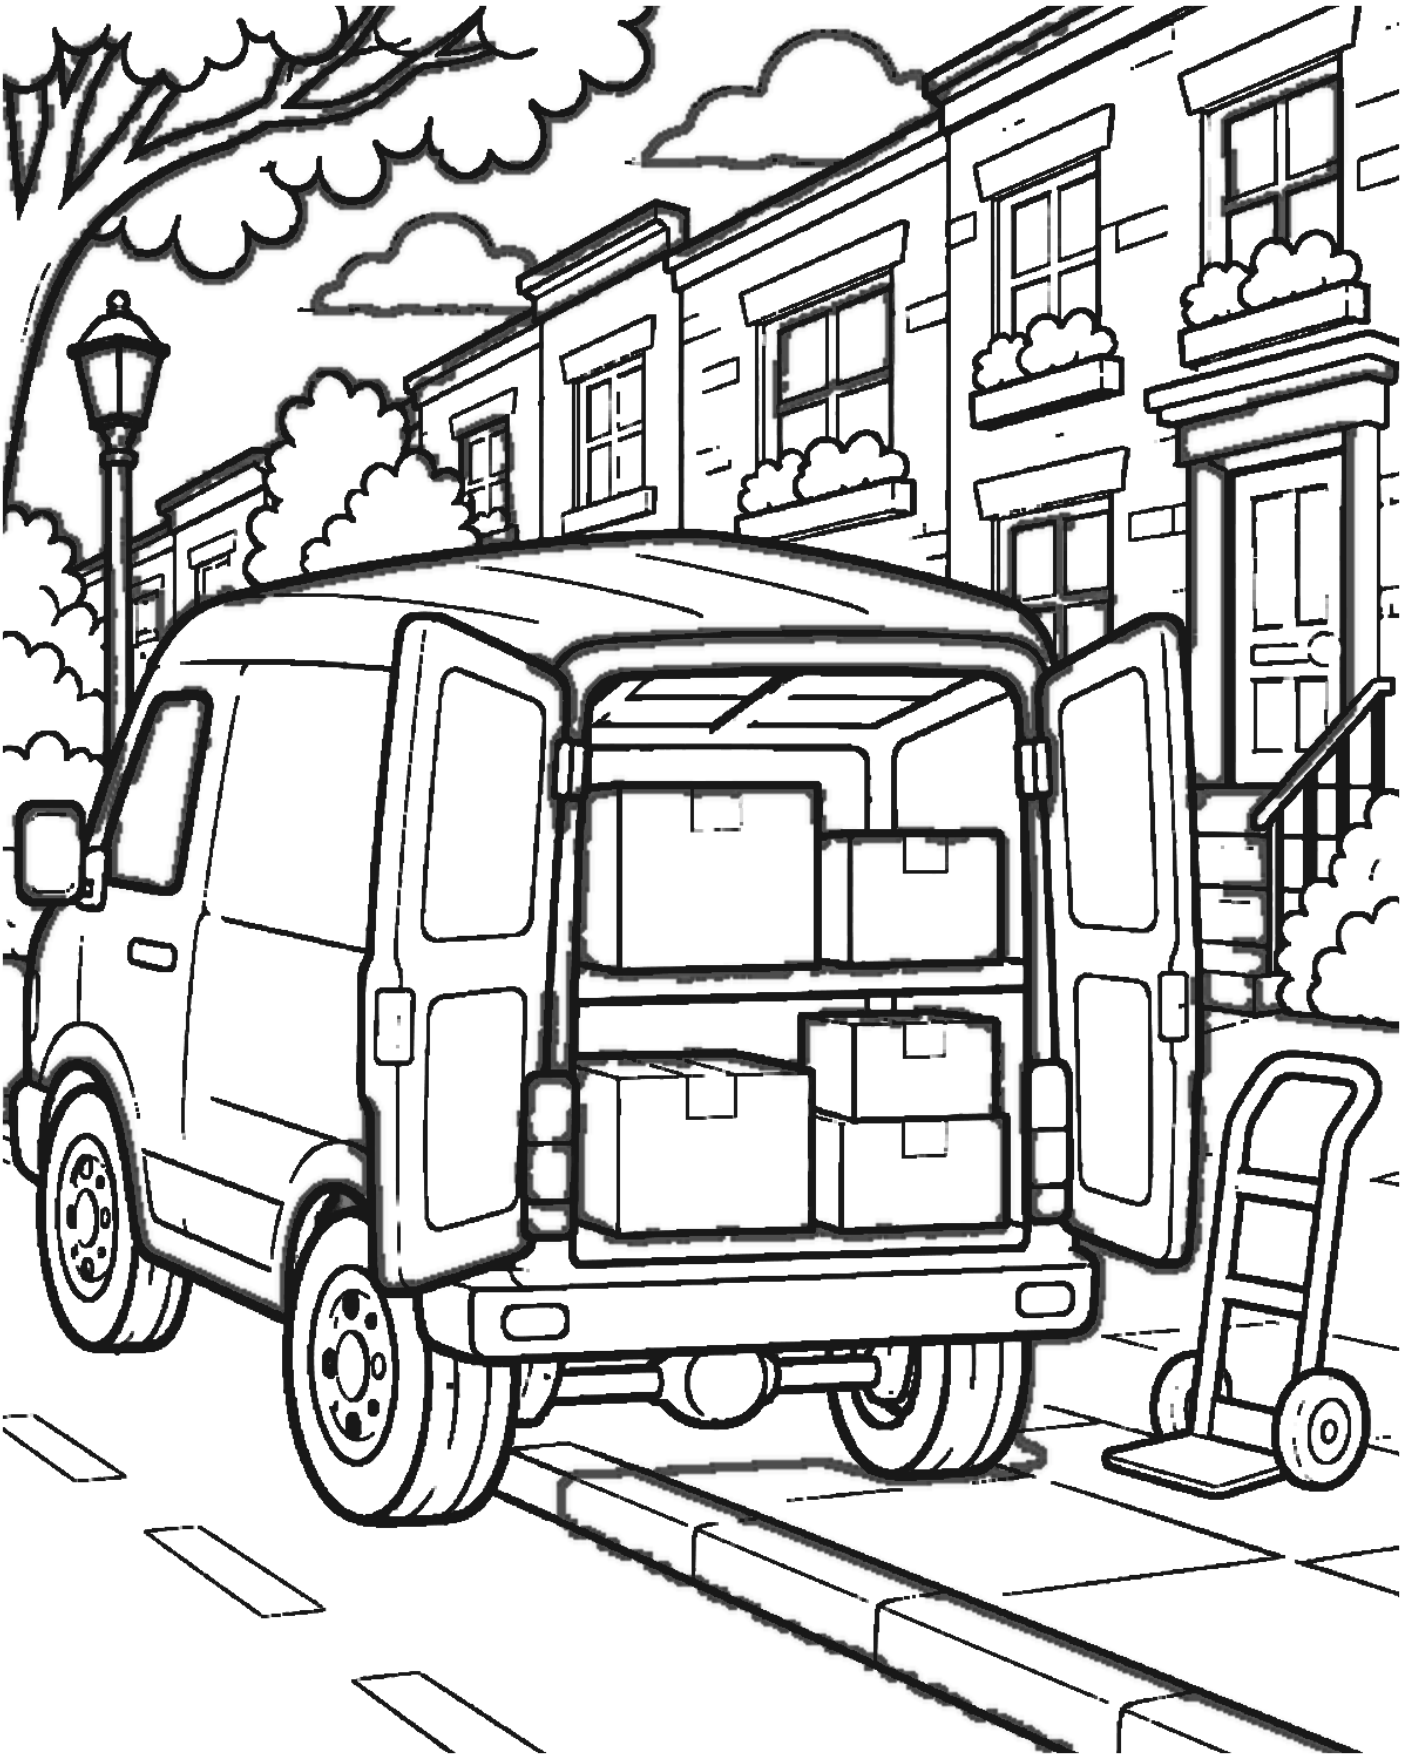
Parcel Van

How does a parcel get a tracking update?



Did you know? A parcel has a label with a code that identifies it. When the carrier scans the label at a stop along the way, the tracking system can report a new step in its trip. A delivery scan can show when it reaches its destination.