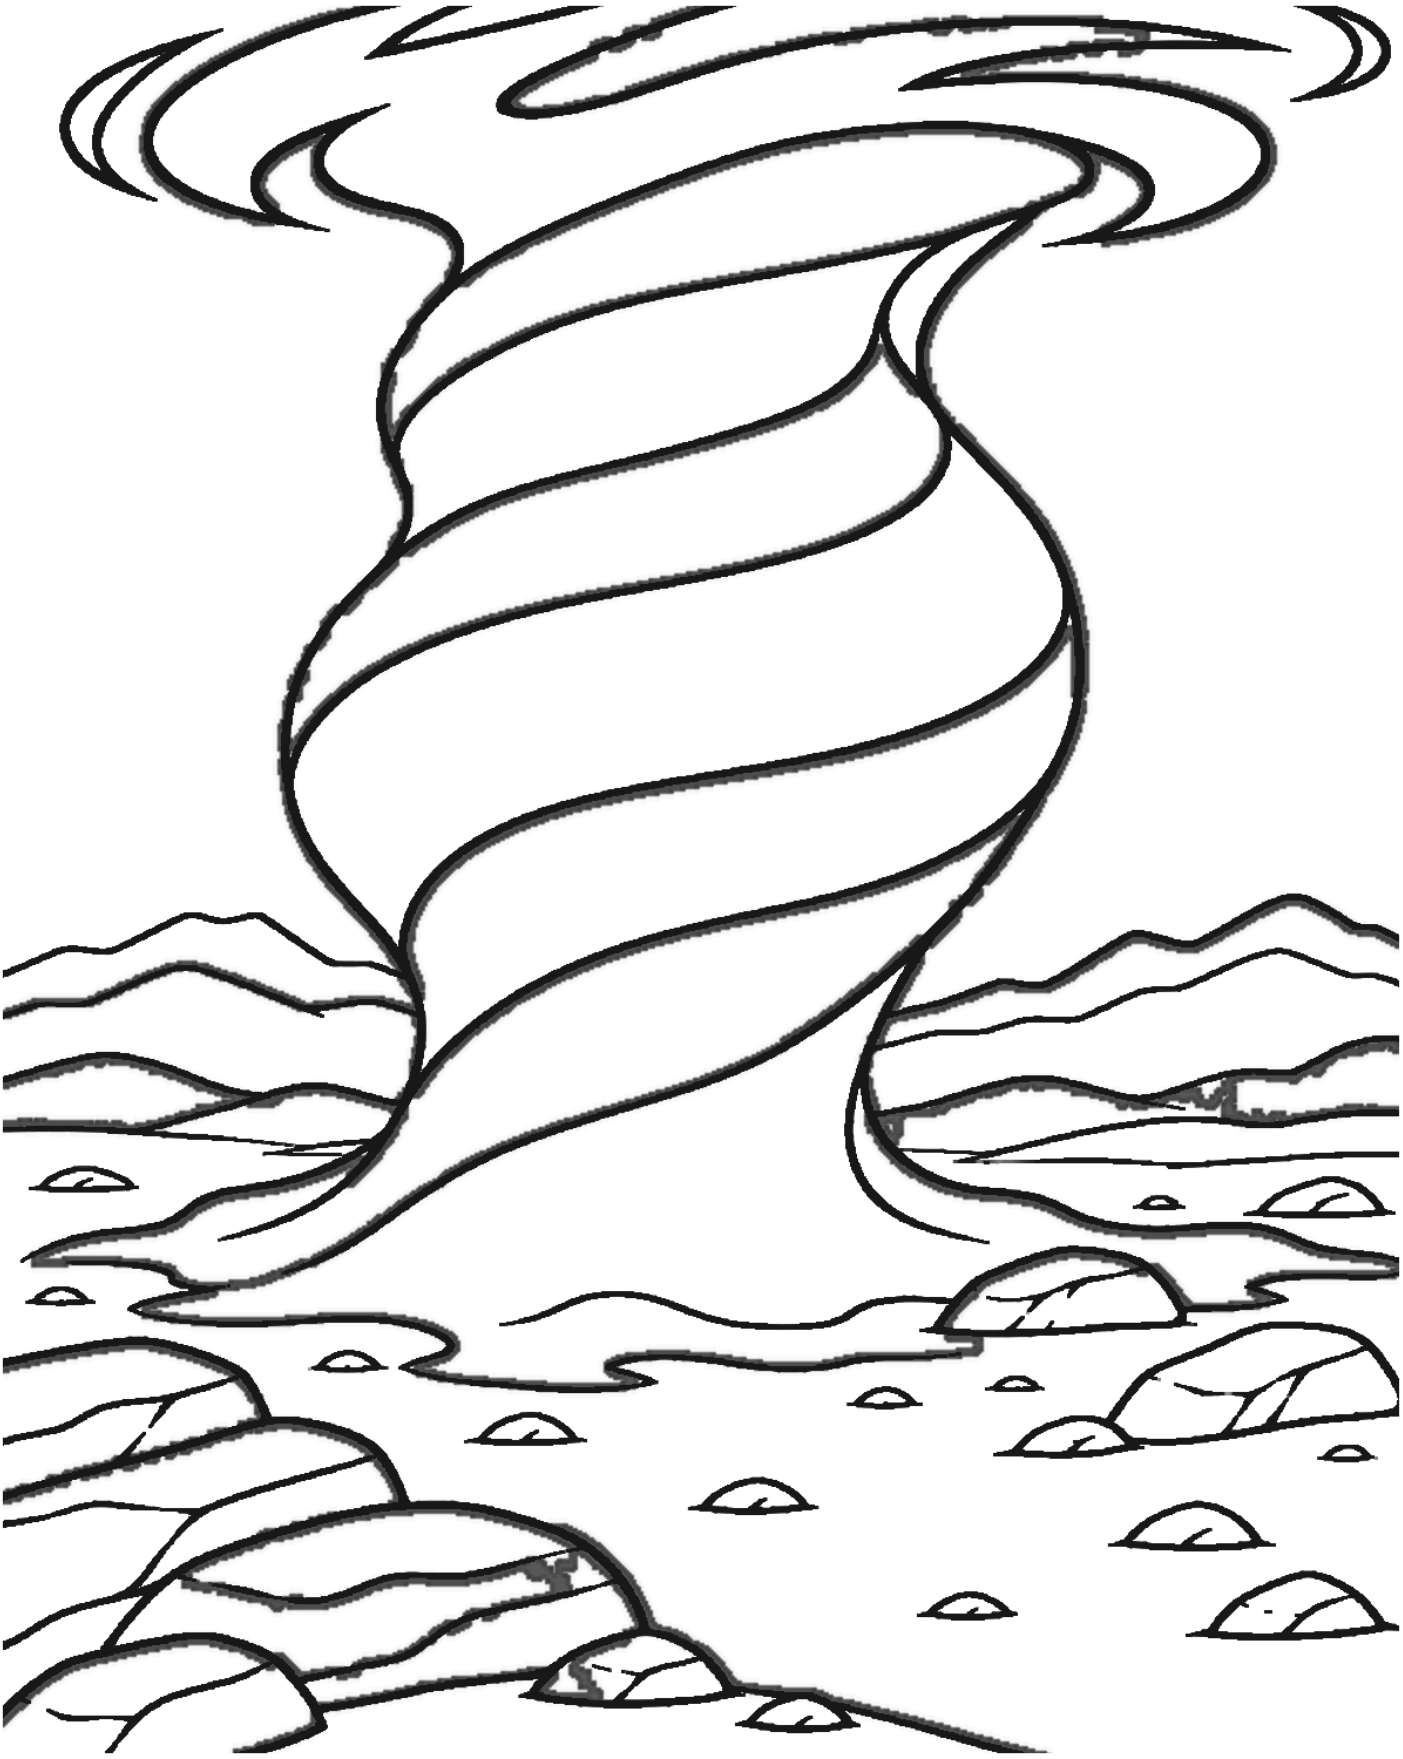
Martian Dust Devil

How does a dust devil make itself visible?



Did you know? Sunlight warms the ground, which warms the air just above it. Rising air can start spinning and pick up loose dust. The dust traces the spinning column, so a rover can sometimes see the whirlwind moving across the ground.