Secretarybird

How does a secretarybird hunt on foot?

Did you know? A secretarybird strides through open grass on long legs, looking for small animals. It can stamp at prey with rapid kicks and uses its strong feet to subdue even some snakes.