Sea Star

How does a sea star walk across a rock?

Did you know? Rows of small tube feet line the underside of its arms. The feet reach forward, grip the rock and pull the sea star along. Sea stars move these feet using water inside a system of tubes.