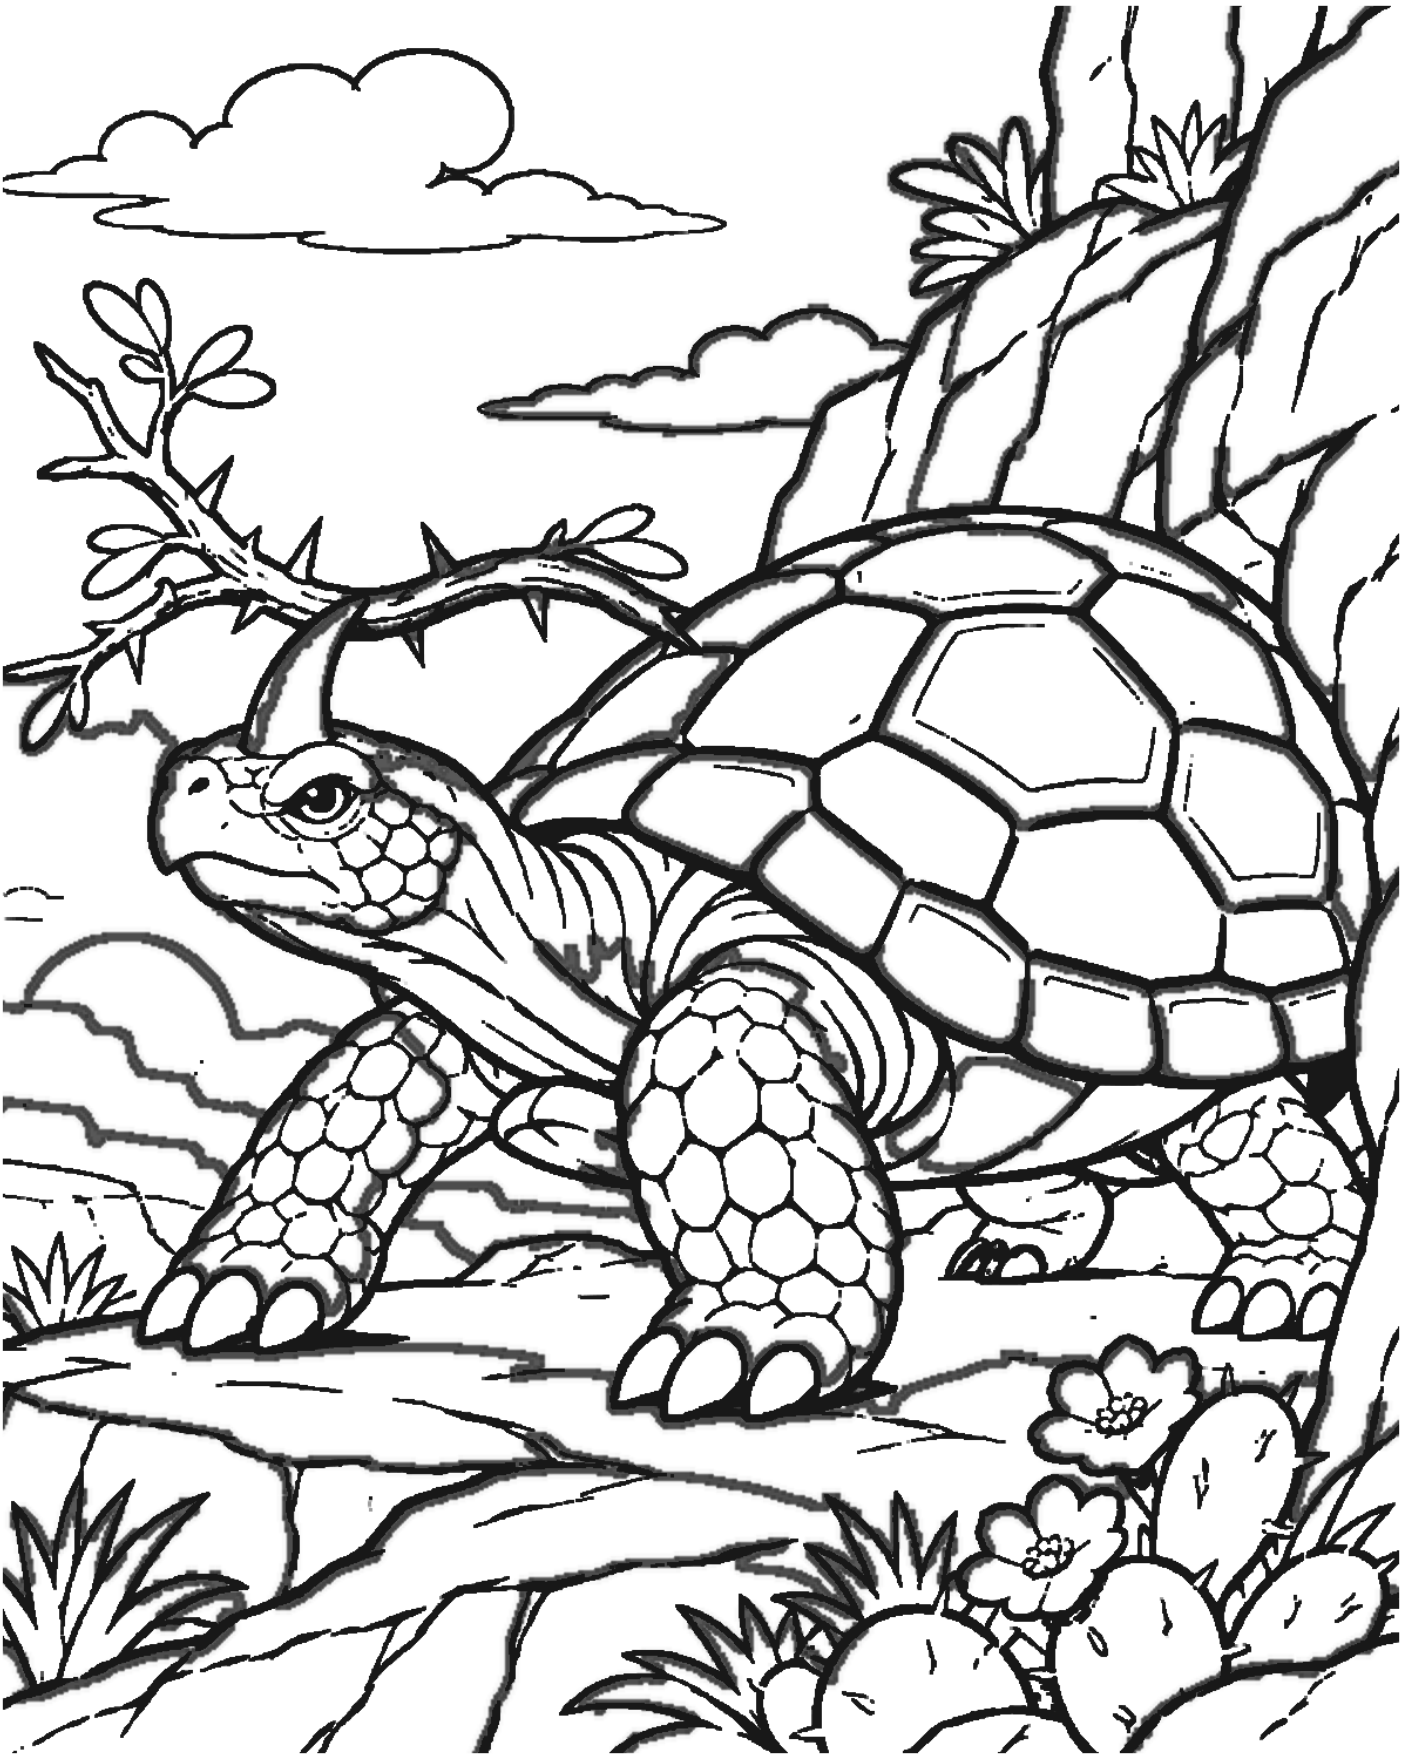
Dune Tortoise

Where does a desert tortoise go on a hot day?



Did you know? A desert tortoise shelters in a burrow when the surface gets too hot. The ground around its burrow keeps the air cooler and slows changes in temperature. The tortoise can come out to look for food when the weather cools.