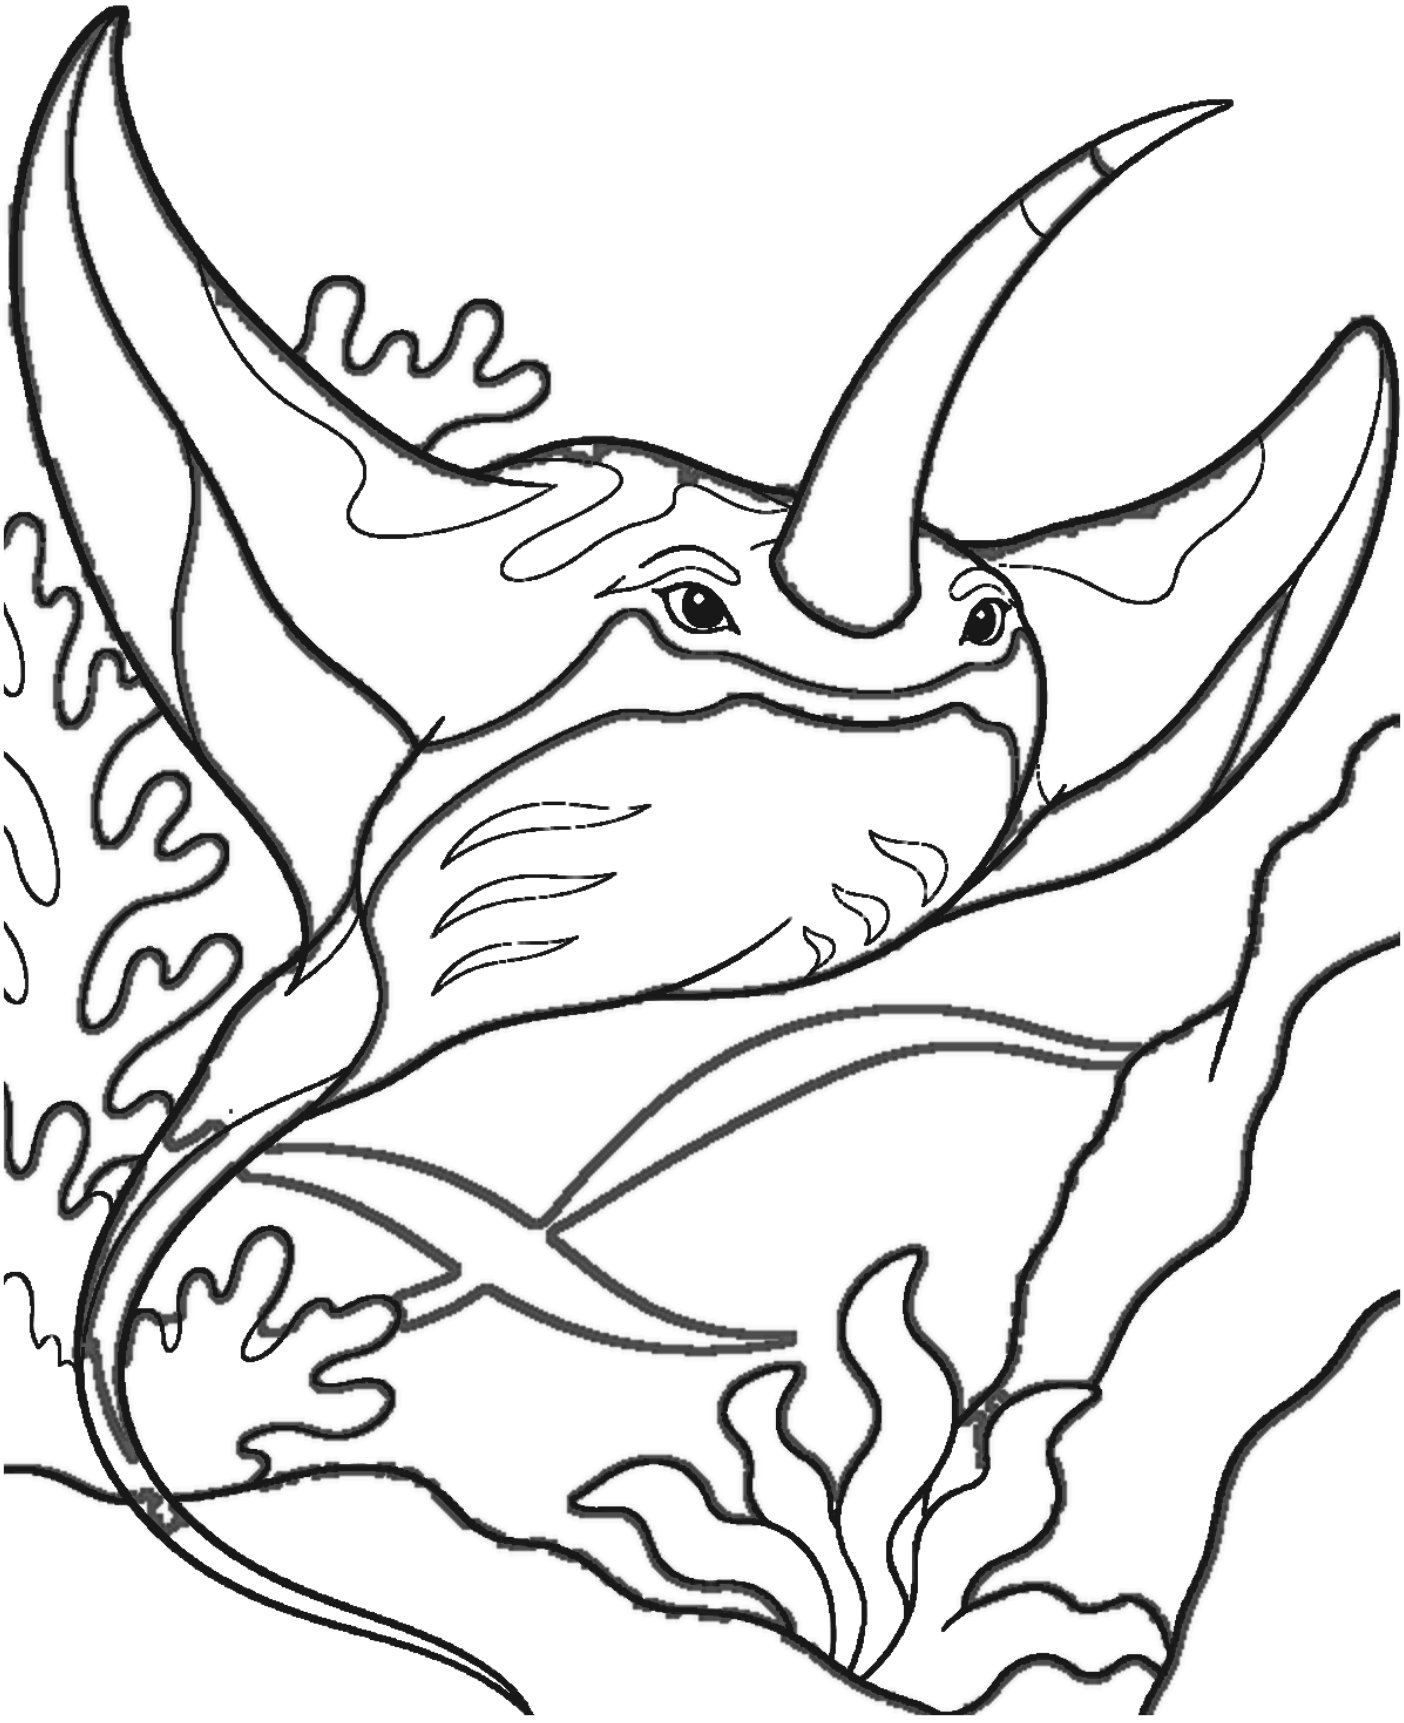
Lantern Ray

How can a real manta ray look like it is flying?



Did you know? A manta ray beats its broad pectoral fins to move through water. The fins extend on either side of its body and work a little like wings. The glowing horn is part of the Lantern Ray story.